Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 10.—Toledo bunched hits and Wheeling bunched errors to-day, with the result that the visitors were beaten easily. Butler let up in his work in the ninth inning and Lytle's men got two runs as the result of three hits. The fielding of Lyons and Leahy was applauded liberally by the crowd. Manager Strobel has announced that his franchise is for sale, as he wishes to quit the ball business.

BASE BALL COMMENT.

Saturday the Wheelings won a game from Fort Wayne that was not when played either a championship or exhibition game. If Power decides that Caruthers was wrong in forfeiting a game to Fort Wayne Wednesday because Wheeling was late in arriving from Findlay, then the game counts; but if he sustains the umpire Saturday's game was merely an exhibition contest. If it comes our way Wheeling won three out of four from Glasscock's team, but if not then the teams parted even on the series. Pending the decision the Intelligencer does not include the game in its standing of clubs.

Wheeling lost again at Toledo yesterday, and comes home to-day for the last scheduled series on the home grounds, Springfield being the attraction on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. However, there may be games here the last half of the week. Youngstown is not drawing well at home, and Messrs. Lytle and Healy are endeavoring to have the games between Wheeling and Youngstown transferred to the inland grounds.

Johnny Farrell, one of the players whom Wheeling traded to New Castle for Lytle and Kilm last spring, it is said, has been sold to Boston for $1,000.

Rev. Latimer claims he is not under reservation to Youngstown and says he will sign with Louisville this week. The Youngstown management threatens him with the blacklist if he carries out his plan.

In to-day's game Parvin will pitch

The News has forsaken the Intelligencer's standing of clubs and substitutes for it the one carried by the Pittsburgh Leader, President Power's paper. If the News man will total the wins and losses he will see his present tabulation is incorrect, for there is not an equal number of victories and defeats. The Intelligencer does not vouch for the correctness of its tabulation, simply because Power does not promulgate publicly his action on the score or more of protested games the season's work brought forth.

Four of the Inter-State league clubs—Mansfield, New Castle, Fort Wayne and Toledo—have pennant prospects. The two latter clubs finish the season on the road and none of the Mansfield club's games are abroad. New Castle has the advantage of being home for the rest of the season. With the help of the clubs fighting for the pennant in the closing games, the Inter-State race is the best of the season—Sporting News.

The staunch little Inter-State league gives its patrons and players a longer season than the Class A league.—Sporting News.

FOOT BALL IN STEUBENVILLE.

The Acmes Will Present a Very Strong Front This Season.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 10.—The Acme foot ball team has organized for its seventh year, and it will put up its usual good article of foot ball this season. They begin practice on Monday and will be open for games with any teams in Ohio, West Virginia or western Pennsylvania, at home or abroad. M. E. McSwiggan is manager, and the directors are Bartley Poley, Fred Haupt, M. F. Hasset, Daniel Doyle, George Maley, Alex McCoskey and John McCullough.

The following good foot ball players will have positions on the team, many of them being boys who have been on several years. Centre, Porter; guards, Haupt, Bowers, Connors, Owens; tackles, Wagner, of Cadis, Maley, of Montreal, Carr, Needham, Kilmartin, late of Purdue university; ends, the old favorites, McClellan and F. Houser; backs, Snyder, Bates, Burke, W. Houser, Jones, Cannon and James Burns, late of Pittsburgh college, who will coach and captain the team. Patsy Nalen, an Acme guard, will hold down centre at Notre Dame university this year. Curtis Laughlin, an Acme player, is with Baltimore Medical college team. James Fulton, another Acme player, will be on the Ohio State university team.

A large number of players outside of the city have applied for positions on the Acme team, but the manager feels safe in saying with the make-up of the team this year he can cope with any team in this locality. Games will be played with D. C. and A. C. Dennison, Wheeling, East Liverpool, Martin's Ferry, McDonald and Weaville.

The Acmes have enclosed grounds and a grand stand with a seating capacity of 600.

The High School A. C. has organized by electing officers as follows: President, Harry Day; vice president, Frank Fiest; secretary, Albert Lee; manager, foot ball team, Frank Hawkins.

BOXING.

Jack McClelland's victory over Joe Hopkins has given him quite a boost up the ladder and an increased number of admirers in this city. Particularly pleasing was his victory to Eddie Gardner, who after the bout remarked: "Now say that McClelland can't hit." Eddie was up against him twice, and declares no one ever gave him such a thumping or one he felt so long after.

McClelland presents a slim trim figure in the ring, but his muscles are like steel and his stinging jabs come like lightning. He doesn't do the job with one punch, but he can hand them out pretty lively, and his improved form predicts a further climb up the ladder.

Followers of "dope" assert McClelland's equality to Oscar Gardner, because each took fifteen rounds to down Hopkins. It must be remembered that Oscar allowed Joe to come in at catch weights, while McClelland insisted on 125 pounds. And then, Oscar always gave to give the patrons of the club which he is interested in a run for their money. He could have knocked Hopkins out earlier had he chosen.

A match between Jack McClelland and Sam Bolen ended the K. of P.'s big crowd week, next month, would deserve the big crowd it certainly would draw.

Oscar Gardner was the first to knock out Sammy Kelly, the 116-pound champion. Kelly was no good afterwar and fell an easy prey to McClelland. So how the McGovern lay claim to the 116-pound championship, for which he and Palmer fight to-day?

MCGOVERN AND PALMER

Meet To-night in a Battle for the Featherweight Championship.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Terry McGovern, of Brooklyn, and Pedlar Palmer, of England, are to meet to-morrow afternoon for a $10,000 purse in a twenty-five round bout at 115 pounds, before the West Chester Athletic Club, Tuckahoe and the fight has attracted unusual interest.

McGovern and Palmer, the sportsmen may are two very evenly matched fighters, and each has trained hard for the struggle, there should be a battle from start to finish. Both McGovern and Palmer are clever, game and clean. They have scores of victories to their credit, are pugilists of the widest popularity in their respective countries, and, consequently, the interest will be at the fever point.

A number of Englishmen have come from the other side to back Palmer and witness the fight and scores of them already in America waiting for the fight, the preponderance of money here is naturally in the hands of the Americans, and almost to a man they have picked McGovern to win. Consequently he is a favorite in the betting.

MOUNDSVILLE BUDGET

Yesterday's News From Marshall County's Chief City.

The second annual fair of the Ohio Valley Agricultural Association will be held here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The association has done everything in its power to make the fair a success in every way. It has been extensively advertised within a radius of one hundred miles, and the largest crowds ever seen in Moundsville are expected on the grounds. The grounds have been gone over, repairs made where needed, new buildings, pens, sheds, etc., added, until they make a very nice appearance, and are in first class shape for the fair. The track is in first class condition and the weather of the only thing that can mar the success of the races or fair in general. The races will be something extraordinary. Nothing like it has ever been seen in Moundsville. The speed program for the first day is a 2:40 country pace, and a 2:40 trot, three in five, mile heats. Both races have many entries which will make it very interesting. Live stock, poultry, fruits, fancy work, flowers and agricultural implements will be there galore. The farmers of the community are manifesting quite an interest in the fair, and exhibitors are encouraged by the interest taken in them and the fair treatment received last year at the hands of the members of the association. Those who heard the excellent music furnished by them last year know there is a treat in store for them. No liquor will be sold here. BELLAIRE HAPPENINGS.

Matters of Interest in the Metropolis of Belmont County

There was considerable stir Saturday evening over the fact that a fellow in broad daylight entered the residence of John Parks, on North Belmont street, and after ransacking the lower part of the house, came out and walking around to the front went down street as unconcerned as if he had done nothing wrong. The family was away from home at the time, but a daughter, Miss Anna, was standing with a girl companion on the opposite side of the street. They saw the man come out, but before notifying the marshal or police they made an investigation. The fellow did not get a great deal, a gold watch and a ring being all that was missed. It is thought the fellow was a tramp and went around to get something to eat when the opportunity seemed to present itself for him to do so. There is no clue to the chap at all.

Miss Anna Becker, a young lady who has been attending the Wheeling business college for a year past, made a deliberate attempt at suicide off the ferryboat Saturday evening. The rescue was made just in time to save her, as she selected a point for the plunge where she was least likely to be noticed. No reason is given, either by the girl or her family, but from what is known she had probably brooded over discouragements until she finally concluded she might as well be out of the world as out of a position to make her own living. This seems to be the only explanation that can be given.

MARTIN'S FERRY NEWS.

The Daily Chronicle of Wheeling's Progressive Neighbor.

Council met Saturday evening with six members present. The matter of paving South Broadway through the Breidenstein property was brought up and discussed at some length, but when the question was brought to a vote it was decided not to pave the street this winter, by a vote of 5 to 1. The driving population of this city will be sorry to learn this, as they had anticipated there being completed before bad weather set in. This is one of the worst streets in Martin's Ferry during the winter season.
